its brown bag lunch series*

Diversity Dialogue

“Religion and its Influence on Care-Seeking Behaviors of American Muslim Women”

- Join the Office of Diversity and Inclusion for its brown bag lunchtime discussion: “Religion and its Influence on Care-Seeking Behaviors of American Muslim Women” on Thursday, March 24, 2016 from 12-1PM. Milkie Vu, MA, Research Specialist in the Section of Emergency Medicine and Initiative on Islam & Medicine, will facilitate this month’s discussion.
- Through discussing the results of one of her recent research projects, Ms. Vu will highlight how religion plays an important role in influencing American Muslim women's health behaviors. She will discuss possible challenges and opportunities to provide culturally competent healthcare to Muslim women and introduce activities and projects at the Initiative on Islam and Medicine at the University of Chicago.
